Fashion Is Officially in Its Bow Era

BYRDIE

The bow element started trending in the summer of 2023 and is expected to continue and mature through 2024.

Bows have had quite the comeback in recent years, but this season they're even bigger, bolder, and better than in the past.

Stars like Sarah Jessica Parker are taking the bow to bigger and bolder levels with XXL styles that cascade down to butt length;

A big bow makes a statement, so make sure your outfit and hairstyle complement it. Avoid busy patterns or too many other accessories that might clash with the bow.

16 Renaissance Era-Inspired Hairstyles That Give Romance With a Modern Twist

From buns to crown braids, French braids, and styles adorned with ribbons and pearls, all these details are styles we can't get enough of these days.

Twice As Nice

A Renaissance hairstyle twofer, Olivia Culpo's look features a braid and a bow. Both elements add interest to a classic slicked-back bun—it's truly all in the details.

Bigger Is Better

To make a statement, go big with an oversized braided bun hairstyle and a jumbo bow to match. The Renaissance ladies of the court would have loved this look, but it also feels incredibly modern and coquette.
