#The Different Types of Nail Files

To different manicure functions

Files with 100 grit are best for manicures. Glass files are also trending.

Crystal Nail Files

Both gentle and durable, crystal nail files are the best of both worlds, which a fine grit that makes them ideal if you're concerned about potentially causing damage to sensitive nails.

Metal Nail Files

Often made of steel, these tend to be the most durable of all nail files and are therefore the strongest option for nails. A metal or steel nail file are best suited for those who naturally have thicker nails or if you like using fake nails. Because of its abrasiveness, using this type of nail file carefully.

Emery Board Files

An emery-board nail file is made with cardboard or wood that has an abrasive material used to file the nail glued to it — a.k.a. emery. This type of nail file is best suitable for your natural nails and great for shaping.
